One More Week of "First Period" Votes

Just Seven Days Remain in Which to Secure Maximum Number of Votes in Big Auto Subscription Contest

WORK NOW IF YOU WANT TO WIN

One Week From Saturday Night at Eight O'Clock a Big Reduction in Vote Schedule Will Take Place--Make Every Day Count

Here's How They Stand!

Mrs. J. Kolber, Mokena	193,550
Mrs. Louis Koerner, 704 Brown Ave., Joliet	5,000
R. M. Cooper, Orland	136,000
Elfreide Kreis, Mokena	5,730
Edna McDonald, New Lenox	5,200
Henry Boyer, Tinley Park	5,700
Grace E. Study, Frankfort	33,400
Hilmer Johnson, Mokena	141,620
Margaret Hopkins, Tinley Park	249,450
Elvin Bormet, Mokena	5,000
Everett Adrews, Frankfort	5,530
August Braun, Mokena	5,000

Viola Wilkie, Tinley Park	85,420
Alvin Bruggeman, Frankfort	235,400
Ida Schultz, Orland	5,800
Lawrence Woodman, Frankfort	5,600

They're in the stretch.

Candidates in the News-Bulletin's big subscription campaign and automobile prize contest have reached the turning point, maneuvered themselves into position for the final and from now until the close of the "first period" Saturday night, November 29, will be battling for supremacy under whip and spur.

With a total running into the hundreds of thousands Miss Margaret Hopkins, the pretty and popular assistant agent for the Rock Island railroad at Tinley Park, has taken the lead this week. Miss Hopkins' friends at Tinley Park and surrounding communities are coming to her aid in fine shape. They say that Tinley Park is going to get the beautiful Overland touring car for its favorite young lady if hard work and hustle will turn the trick. Their motto is: "Watch Tinley Park go from now until the finish" and the past record of Tinleyites, when they go after a thing, is that they come out on top or die game.

Right on the heels of Miss Hopkins, and a close second, is Alvin Bruggeman of Frankfort. Mr. Bruggeman is a favorite in his community and is a hustler. He says he wants that Overland and as his friends and acquaintances are with him in his efforts, the other candidates will have to "go some" to keep him from taking a Christmas joy ride in that fine Overland car which heads the list of costly and beautiful prizes the News-Bulletin is to give to these hustling solicitors for their spare time efforts during the next few weeks.

Hilmer Johnson, who last week led the field in the published vote schedule, is still in the race and has added to his total a goodly number of votes since our last issue. Hilmer is not a defeated boy by any means. He started in to win and he will give a mighty good account of himself before the gong taps the final finish.

Among other candidates who will have to be taken into consideration before the finish are August Braun and Mrs. J. Kolber of Mokena and Everett Andrews of Frankfort. All three of these persons will be in the race from this date, and when the end comes you will, without a doubt, find them among the prize winners.

The new candidates that have entered the race since our last issue are R. M. Cooper of Orland and Elvin Bormet of Mokena. These two young men have entered the race with a will and are sure to give a good accounting of themselves before the race comes to a close.

Reaching an Acute Stage.

With but one more week after Saturday night in which to turn in subscriptions and secure the maximum number of votes, and with but few more weeks to go before the race comes to a close, interest in the contest intensifies. Each contestant realizes that the big prizes are practically within their grasp, either to claim for their own or forfeit to more aggressive opponents during the next few weeks—depending to a great extent upon their final supreme efforts put forth now while the BIG VOTES are allowed.

If you halt for a moment, if you weaken for a single day, or if you overlook a single opportunity to better your chances to win, you are taking a desperate chance of losing the big prize, already partially won and which really belongs to you if you but work with a will.

A Fight to the Finish.

Don't forget this is a battle hereafter. Craft helps; speed too, but the rugged strength and lasting qualities of a few hundred thousand votes means victory here as the same traits win any battle.

Remember 3,000 votes are allowed on yearly subscriptions this and next week; the following week only 2,000 are allowed; 25,000 votes are issued on five-year subscriptions now, while during the "second period" only 20,000 votes are given. WORK NOW IF YOU WISH TO WIN.

MISS MARGARET HOPKINS

Popular and Pretty Rock Island Assistant Agent at Tinley Park, who this week is Leader in the Race for the Christmas Prize Overland Touring Car.

Here's an example of how easy it is to secure 500,000 votes in this contest:

25,000 votes are allowed on each 5-year subscription (new or renewal) to the Mokena News-Bulletin, providing same is turned in before the close of the "first period" terminating Saturday night, November 29.

Ten such subscriptions (amounting to $87.50 in business) would entitle you to 250,000 REGULAR votes. And, according to the offer of issuing 50,000 SPECIAL EXTRA votes on every "club" of $17.50 turned in ($87.50 constitutes five complete clubs) making 250,000 SPECIAL votes plus 250,000 REGULAR votes, or a grand total of 500,000 votes.

Therefore, ten such subscriptions, or approximately its equivalent in shorter term orders, would mean half a million votes. Easy enough, isn't it?

Haven't you ten friends who would help you to the extent of a 5-year subscription to the News-Bulletin (only $8.75) toward the winning of that splendid, brand new 1920 Model Overland touring car, worth $960.00? Surely you have. Try it and see.

OUT-OF-TOWN CANDIDATES ATTENTION

In order to afford candidates residing outside of Mokena the same opportunity to work up to the closing hour of the "first period" as those residing here in Mokena, they will be privileged to mail their letters containing subscriptions as late as 8 o'clock Saturday night, November 29, and such letters will be accepted and "first period" votes issued thereon.

This ruling will apply to any other such subscriptions as may be in the mails on or before this hour and date, even though they are not received at this office until the following Monday.

FRANKFORT NEWS

Frankfort, Nov. 20.—The bazaar and supper given under the auspices of was held in the church parlors and the Ladies' Aid Society of the St. Peter's Evangelical church last Thursday was a record breaker. The bazaar was so largely attended that there was hardly room to turn in. The entire afternoon and evening was devoted to the sale of various articles from booths. In the evening a sumptuous supper was served. The total proceeds came to $515.77, of which amount $500 was cleared.

SKUNK VISITS DANCE.

A skunk had the audacity to attend the Mokena Men's club moonlight picnic at the club's pavilion in the Cap ple Grove Saturday night. The skunk did not seek to dance, but made his presence known through his unsavory odor. Mr. Skunk was the topic of conversation for the rest of the evening. He made his getaway, however.

Sam Kolber of Chicago was a guest of the David Kolber family over Sunday.

Orland to have Bank by Spring

Orland, Nov. 20.—The business men of Orland have long felt the need of a bank so a meeting was called at the village hall last Monday night and it was decided that Orland would build a bank in the spring. Mr. Crawford, a banker of Beach, N. D., was present and gave a fine talk telling of the need and advantage of a bnnk,

A committee was appointed to apply to the State Auditor of Banks for a permit to solicit subscriptions.

Everybody present was willing to subscribe to quite an amonnt It is expected that the stock will sell fast.

NARROWLY ESCAPES FROM JAWS OF DEATH

Tinley Park, Nov. 20.—Mrs. Henry Klepper miracalously escaped injury last Sunday. While crossing the street, she did not observe a swiftly approaching automobile and was walking across qnite leisurely. Had it not not been for the presence of mind of her husband, who hastened to assist her and the screams of nearby children warning her of her immediate danger-there is no telling what might have happened. She was taken to the home of her sister to regain her composure.

BAGS MORE HUNTERS.

NEWS-BULLETIN HAS TO ENLARGE

We take pleasure in announcing that the News-Bulletin is enjoying a rapid growth in advertising and news matter and, in order not to crowd out news matter and advertising copy the editor has been obliged to enlarge the paper to a six-column eight-page paper. We are giving our subscribers a larger and better paper this week than ever before. Note carefully the features we are carrying now. Here we have a dandy page on suggestions for appropriate Christmas gifts. Then we have the usual Kitchen Cabinet, which has been a source of interest to our lady readers in previous issues. Then we have a page of seasonable Thanksgiving matter and another page containing good live automobile articles and the well-known Bowser stories.

We are making arrangements to carry Homer and Orland correspondence. We also inaugurated a new feature last week by way of an auction sale column, in which the names, places and dates of auction sales will be given throughout the sale season for this territory.

We are going to make the News-Bulletin the best weekly paper in Will county, and count on your support to make this paper such a success.

We are giving you more local news than any other paper circulating in your territory and aim to give only such news as is alive and full of interest to everyone. This is your paper and we want you to feel that it is. This paper is not being run for any one particular party or class, but for ALL THE PEOPLE.

THE EDITOR.

MOKENA NEWS

Mokena, Nov. 20.—Mokena is having a Red Cross drive which started the past week and will continue throughout this week. Mrs. Charles Reynolds is the chairman of the local committee and assisted by able helpers is making the drive a noteworthy one. A good share of subscriptions have been received and many more pledges are promised for this week. Let everyone help this worthy cause. We notice quite a number of 100 per cent Red Cross signs in the windows and hope to see more.

FARMERS HEAR NUSING ADDRESS.

C. J. Cooper, director of the Milk Producers' association and one defendant in the Milk Producers' Association's officials trial before State's Attorney Hoyne of Cook county, gave a rousing address to the farmers of this section at the Mokena hall Friday night. He gave a resume of the trial, of the various things that entered into the bringing about of the trial which was charged up to "playing politics" on the part of certain officials. Mr. Cooper gave a well defined talk on the great good that has come to the Milk Producers' association through the verdict of not guilty found in their favor by the jury.

In addition Mr. Cooper pointed out why farmers must get together and organize in order that the price of production be maintained; otherwise the farmers will face ruin. He gave a splendid outline of the drive which is on now to form a national organization and showed how every farmer in Will county will be benefited by this great organization.

MOKENA HAS TAG DAY.

Saturday was tag day for Mokena for the purpose of raising funds for the Silver Cross hospital, Joliet. The Ladies' Aid society of the local Methodist church had charge of the tagging and raised over $50, which was considered splendid work.

CONNECTED UP WITH BELL SYSTEM.

The past week the local switchboard of the late Interstate Telephone company was connected up with the New Lenox central of the Chicago Telephone company and all Interstate subscribers can talk anywhere now on the Chicago lines. Just what arrangements will be made as regards what central will handle the Mokena phones has not been announced. A suggestion has been made that the business people of Mokena ought to make some kind or arrangements with the Bell people to induce them to erect a building here for the local exchange.

FRED MARTI HOLDS SALE.

Commissioner of Highways Fred Marti held a sale on his farm Saturday. A good sized crowd was present. Cattle prices were good. Mr. Marti's son will operate the farm while Mr. Marti will move to Frankfort.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harvey, who have been staying with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hatch, have moved to Joliet. Mr. Harvey is just recovering from a long and severe siege of illness.

Pretty Christmas Gift Suggestions

Ideas for Acceptable Presents That Any Woman Handy With the Needle Can Make at Home

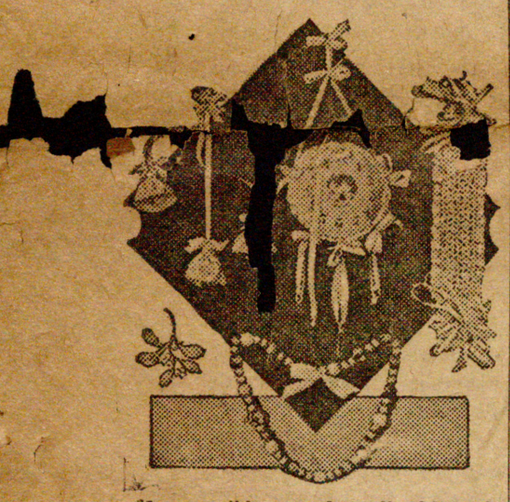
By JULIA BOTTOMLEY

Ribbon Sewing Sets

Above are pictured two pretty sewing or darning sets which are intended to hang somewhere conveniently on a wall or be suspended from some place of vantage on the bedroom furniture. At the right of the picture an embroidery hoop is wound with narrow satin ribbon and decorated with bows having many long loops. A thimble, spool of thread, emery bag and needle case are all tied to the hoop or suspended from it. The small kitten of cloth, much dressed up with a bow of ribbon on the neck, carries darning needles in its side and large pins along its back. A little, tinkling silver bell hangs on the ribbon about its neck.

At the left two heart-shaped pieces of cardboard covered with figured satin are sewed together along the sides forming a pocket open at the top which will hold needles, pins and other things. A spool of black and a spool of white thread are fastened to the front of the pocket with a ribbon. Small scissors are suspended at the bottom, a thimble is placed at the left and a glove darner at the right. Large pins with white heads finish off the edge of the pocket and a few safety pins are suspended on a bit of ribbon at the center.

Gifts for the Baby



Narrow ribbons and small white celluloid rings help fashion many pretty gifts for baby as may be seen in the picture above. Flowerlike bells of ribbon in which safety pins simulate stamens hang at the end of narrow ribbons, that are suspended from a small ring under a little bow. Another pincushion for baby has the hours of the day painted on it and hangs by narrow ribbons from a ring. Bows, loops and rings decorate the cushion at the bottom, making place for several sizes of safety pins. A bow and long end conceal a common pin that is thrust into one of the numbers on the clock—to indicate the hour when baby is to be fed. Below this pretty gift is a strand of very gayly colored beads and at the right a band crocheted of silk floss, edged and trimmed with ribbon, to be used on the carriage to hold the baby safely in it.

Lovely Kerchief Case

Nothing could be lovelier or more exquisite than this handkerchief case made of handsome ribbons. It is fit for a queen and proud will the lady be who counts its like among her Christmas gifts. A beautiful brocaded ribbon makes the case which is lined with a soft, plain satin. There is a frill of fine val lace about the edge and a very beautiful double quilling of ribbon in two shades is placed above the lace. Rosettes at the corners and a ribbon rose at the center add other glories to this bit of magnificence.

For a Man's Desk

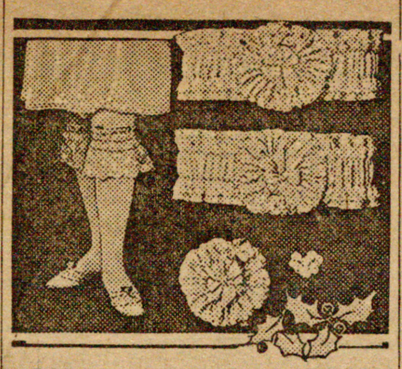
If there is anything a man appreciates more than another it is a waste basket to hold things that he doesn't want or a case to hold things that he does want. Here are both these sensible gifts, made to match, and happy is the man who will receive them at Christmas time.

The waste basket has a foundation of very light board, covered with a dull rose-colored tapestry and finished with dark-green braid. Handles with tassels to match prove convenient. A medallion of figured tapestry bound by braid completes this practical and handsome gift. The case for papers is made to match the basket.

Crochet Lace for Gifts

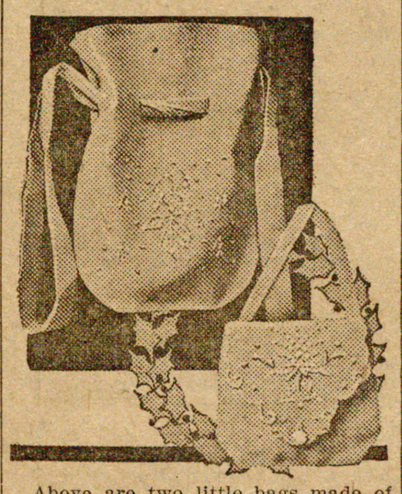
The girl who knows how to crochet can express much devotion in a gift to relative or friend by making crochet lace to be fashioned into caps, trimming and yokes for nightdresses or undermuslins, bags and neckwear. A lovely yoke in an Irish crochet pattern, and a crocheted cap appear in the picture above.

Dainty Ribbon Garters



Ribbons and laces that set off the faces of fair women, do not end their usefulness in this way. Here they appear in Christmas garters of a daintiness and beauty that will bring joy to the recipient. Ribbon, shirred over flat elastic and ornamented with tiny chiffon roses, makes the pair shown with wide flounce of lace falling from one edge of them. The garters at the right are made of wide satin ribbon shirred over flat elastic, with narrow frills of val lace set on them and finished with rosettes made of the same ribbon. Each rosette has a bow of narrower ribbon at the center and three little blossoms of the narrow ribbon, perched at the edge. The rosettes and flowers are shown separately.

Jewel Bags of Linen



Above are two little bags made of linen and embroidered. They are meant to carry money or jewels safely about the neck when their owner is traveling and have an advantage over other bags for this purpose because they are strong and washable. A little hand-embroidery on them conveys the thoughtfulness of the donor and makes much of a small gift.

Christmas Presents You Can Make

Holiday Gift Suggestions for the Handy Needlewoman

By JULIA BOTTOMLEY

For a Little Boy

An "aviator" coat and cap made of chinchilla, eiderdown, or other thick, soft fabric will make a fine gift for a little boy. The round cap has earflaps attached and the coat is provided with a collar that may be turned up about the face. Such an outfit will fill a youngster's heart with pride and insure him against the cold.

For a Tiny Girl

A bonnet, scarf and muff of satin, trimmed with imitation ermine fur, is enough to make the eyes and heart of any little girl dance at Christmas time. Here is a set that loving mothers or aunties who know how to sew can make without much trouble. Beds for muffs are sold at the department stores. The scarf fastens with a snap fastener at the throat, and the muff is suspended on a silk cord.

Household Finery

A dark-brown willow basket lined with silk and decked out with ribbons and ribbon roses in two colors cannot fail to please its recipient at Christmas time, be she young or old. It is a luxurious bit of furnishing that can be used for many things.

A tray or server, like that shown in the picture, is made of silk tapestry gold lace and glass, over any suitable foundation. Trays of this kind in sizes that correspond to a dinner plate or smaller look very much at home on a dressing table among other pretty luxuries.

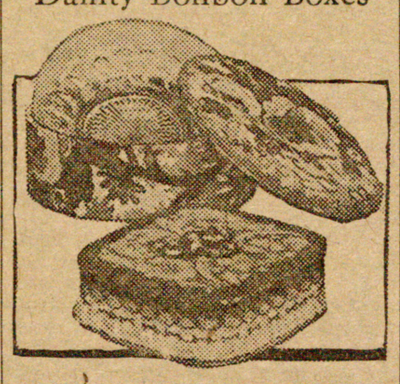
Silk Toilet Bag

Never was anything finer for a Christmas gift than the bag filled with toilet requisites, shown above. It is made of dark silk, having a figure printed on it, and lined with plain satin. The bag closes by means of a silk cord that runs through a casing and emerges, through slashes, in loops at the opposite sides. In the center of the bag a smaller bag incloses a box of face powder, and set about this are pockets containing all needed articles for the toilet. Besides, there is a money or jewel bag to be suspended about the neck when the owner of the toilet bag goes traveling.

Gifts for Grandparents

One is a reading glass, which will prove useful, when ordinary spectacles fail to reveal to the eyes that are growing old. Below is something pretty and useful for grandmamma. It is a bouquet made of paper flowers, and in the heart of each flower is something needful for sewing or darning. The center of one flower is a small spool of black thread; in others are loops of tape, pins, needles, hooks and eyes.

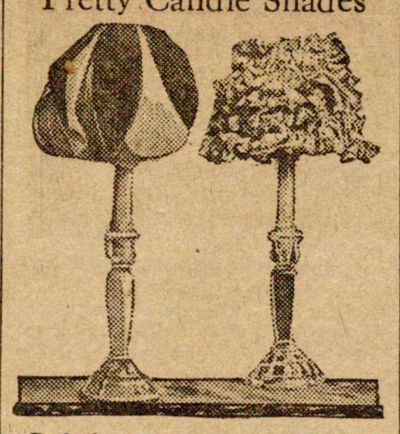
Dainty Bonbon Boxes



There are many lovely bonbon boxes among gifts on display in the shops. Here are two of them—a round one covered with handsome cretonne which is glued to the foundation. The box is lined with a plain silk and the lid is edged with gold lace. It contains a small glass dish for holding the candies.

The square box is covered with silk and has a frill of finely plaited chiffon about it. Over this there is a tiny vine of very narrow ribbon formed into leaves with little roses set between them. Gold lace finishes the sides and top of this box and with the ribbon vine, makes an ornament for the center of the top.

Pretty Candle Shades



Both the pretty candle shades shown here are made of crepe paper cut to simulate flower petals. They are only two of many equally pretty designs. Two strongly contrasting colors are used for the shade at the left as red and white, or green and red. Three shades of rose appear in the pretty affair at the right in which small curly petals that look like sweet peas are glued to a plain foundation of pink paper. A gay paper butterfly is perched at the right side of the shade.

Trinkets for the Tree

Birds and butterflies cut from crepe paper are mounted on cardboard cut to conform to them and provided with a bit of wire at the back to fasten them to the Christmas tree.

Candy is converted into figures of Santa Claus by pasting on cotton hair and whiskers and painting eyes and nose with white paint. A cone made of heavy colored paper is decked out with bows of cheap gauze ribbon and all of these homemade trinkets for the Christmas tree appear in the picture above. It is great fun to get ready for Santa Claus by making such things.

Home-Made Christmas Presents

Pretty Gifts That You Can Make for Your Friends at Slight Expense

By JULIA BOTTOMLEY

Home-Made Toys

The perennial rag doll that appears this year is made of any ribbed goods—as a ribbed stocking—tinted pink. It is cut out by a pattern, sewed and stuffed with cotton. The face and hair are the result of red, black and white water color. The doll is then dressed up in blue cotton crepe and a blue stocking cap.

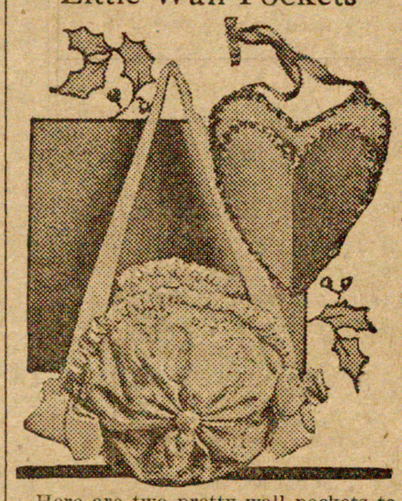
A ball made from scraps of velvet is a fine gift for a very little boy. It takes twelve pieces, measuring three inches across at their widest part to make it. They are sewed together, leaving an opening for stuffing with cotton, and the brighter the colors used the better.

Gifts Made of Paper

Among inexpensive gifts that are at the same time elegant and worth while there are many little convenient articles made of prettily colored, heavy paper. Telephone and laundry lists, small portfolios, envelopes in which to place memoranda, etc., are among them. Two articles made of bright blue mottled paper are shown in the picture. The envelope for recipes is made by folding a straight strip of the paper into a pocket and flap. The sides of the pocket are fastened down with little bows of blue ribbon and the flap is ornamented with a painted spray of flowers in pink. The lettering is done in black.

A long strip of the same paper folded over at each end carries one or more sheets of white paper on which a telephone list is to be written. Small white squares outlined with black ornament it and suggest that this is a man's list. It is tied with a bow of blue ribbon at the top.

Little Wall Pockets



Here are two pretty wall pockets to hang beside or on the dressing table, ready to hold whatever their owners choose to put in them. Disks of cardboard covered with gayly printed ribbon make the frivolous and dainty pocket at the left, and it is suspended by plain satin ribbon that ends in small bows at the sides. At the right two heart-shaped pieces of cardboard are covered smoothly with red satin and fastened together. The edges are finished with narrow puffing of ribbon, and the same ribbon serves to suspend the pocket. This smooth and matter-of-fact affair is evidently intended as a gift for a man. Two hearts with but a single pocket are quite meaningful. But one might use a diamond, a spade or even a club to make a similar pocket, and anyone of them will hold a deck of cards, score cards, pencils and such things, or pins, needles and thread for a bachelor.

A Novelty in Fans

Small palm-leaf fans, all decked out with pretty furbelows are among the novelties that have been brought out for Christmas gifts. These fans are first painted any desired color and then varnished. Then the edge is bound with ribbon having a picot edge or with gold or silver braid or other fancy binding. A spray of millinery flowers is tied against the handle, on one side of the fan, and the handle wound with ribbon that is tied in a bow below the flowers. Or flowers may be painted on the fan or made with sealing wax, as in the fan pictured here. This sample is bound with silver braid and has a long tassel of silver tinsel besides a ribbon bow on the handle. It is pretty in turquoise blue, rose color, red, etc., with ribbon and flowers in colors that harmonize, and is easy to make at home.

A Fad for Flowers

There is a fad for artificial flowers to be used instead of natural flowers for household decoration just now and every home-loving woman will be sure to enjoy a gift of this kind. Small garden roses, nasturtiums and chrysanthemums are great favorites and these particular flowers are cleverly made. They appear in baskets and vases as shown above and make a charming Christmas gift.

Pretty Gift Cushions

Cushions were never so numerous or so beautiful within the memory of the oldest gift seeker as they are now. They are made for chairs, window seats, lounges, couches and the floor, of all sorts of cheerful materials. Here is a handsome specimen in which brocaded and plain satin ribbon are used and embellished with satin-covered cord and a cluster of roses and leaves made of satin ribbon.

Christmas Slippers

At the top is a gay little pair of ribbon slippers for the young girl. In the center there are eiderdown bedroom slippers for any member of the family, and just below a pair of satin bootees for baby, lined with plush or eiderdown and bordered with fur. At the bottom is a pair of handsome bedroom slippers made of ribbon that will delight any woman.

Warns Influenza Will Come Back in More Dangerous Form

Dayton, O.—Declaring that people gained nothing from their experience with the ailment in 1918 and 1893, Dr. W. A. Evans, prominent health authority and writer of Chicago, today predicted that the world would again be swept by an epidemic of influenza far more severe and disastrous than last year, when thousands of lives were lost. The only way it can ever be alleviated or exterminated is by following the advice of the medical world.

Influenza can be prevented; last year's results prove that. As a preventive for flu, Turpo has been a pronounced success. Turpo is an effective germicide, combining the old-fashioned remedies of turpentine (which has always been known as the best home germicide), camphor and menthol in a pure mineral base. These ingredients have long been recognized as effective germicides, as well as having really wonderful qualities in relieving colds and congestions. Snuff a little Turpo up the nostrils several times a day and the flu germs will have little chance of getting a lodging and breeding place. Many physicians and hospitals use and recommend Turpo. Buy a thirty cent jar of Turpo, while your druggist has a supply on hand, and use as directed. Last year druggists could not supply the demand. Remember that Turpo is a preventive, not a cure for influenza. Take care of yourself and if, in spite of your precautions, you think you have the flu, go to bed at once and call a doctor.—Adv.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Catarrhal Deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing may be destroyed forever. Many cases of Deafness are caused by Catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the Mucous Surfaces.

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE.

FARM POULTRY

BOYS AND GIRLS JOIN CLUBS

First Step in Organization Usually Is to Get Support of Business Men of Community.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Poultry-breeeding associations are usually the outgrowth of pioneer work in organizing boys and girls into poultry clubs or of repeated efforts to interest producers in better poultry methods. In some instances, however, leaders in communities have expressed their desire to make an effort to establish for themselves a business or side line that will add to their incomes as individuals and likewise increase the property of the community.

In such promising localities, the first step in organization usually is to get the support of local business men. In small towns many business men own farms and consequently are interested in agriculture, which in turn benefits the various lines of business. At the same time their assistance is helpful in financing the association. In fact this is frequently accomplished by inducing the business men's association to contribute a suitable fund for standard-bred stock which is to be distributed among the farmers who join the association. Cooperation of that kind is usually obtained easily if the business men are shown the advantages of the organization and how the increased prosperity eventually will benefit them.

Another plan that has proved to be satisfactory in Overton county, Tenn., is direct financial assistance from the banks. In this case the banks advanced $1,000 to be invested in breeding pens through the co-operation of the poultry club agent and the county agricultural agent. Each pen consisted of ten hens or pullets and a male bird which cost on an average $2.50 a bird. The pens were placed with club members in the various communities. Each person who received a pen guaranteed to return, after the first year, 20 fowls in payment for the original ten hens or pullets furnished him. Those 20 standard-bred fowls, together with two selected male birds, were divided into two pens and the next year were given under the same conditions to two additional club members. One of the requirements of the plan was the continuance of this "endless-chain" system for five years, or until every member possessed at least one pen of standard-bred fowls. Thus the original pens have been multiplied by many hundreds, and the entire county has become well stocked with one breed of fowls.

CONDITION OF LAYING FOWL

Body of Hen Is Deeper in Rear Than at Front of Keel—Pelvic Bones Well Spread.

A hen that is laying has an enlarged abdomen, due to the enlarged intestines, ovary and oviduct. The body is deeper in the rear than at the front of the keel. The condition is reversed when a hen stops laying. The pelvic bones are well spread in the laying hen. As production decreases the ear lobes contract.

MINERAL ELEMENTS FOR HEN

It Pays to Burn Refuse and Brush Heaps Near Poultry Range for Bits of Charcoal.

Hens seem to obtain certain mineral elements that they crave from wood or coal ashes and it pays to burn refuse and brush heaps near the poultry range so that the birds can clean up the ashes and bits of charcoal that remain after the fire.

FAVOR STANDARD-BRED FOWL

Once Taken Up by Farmer He Will Never Go Back to Mongrel or Crossbred Poultry.

When a farmer discards his mongrel or crossbred poultry and takes up standard-bred fowls he never goes back to the poorer stock, because he finds standard-bred birds more satisfactory and more profitable.

Backache only a Symptom

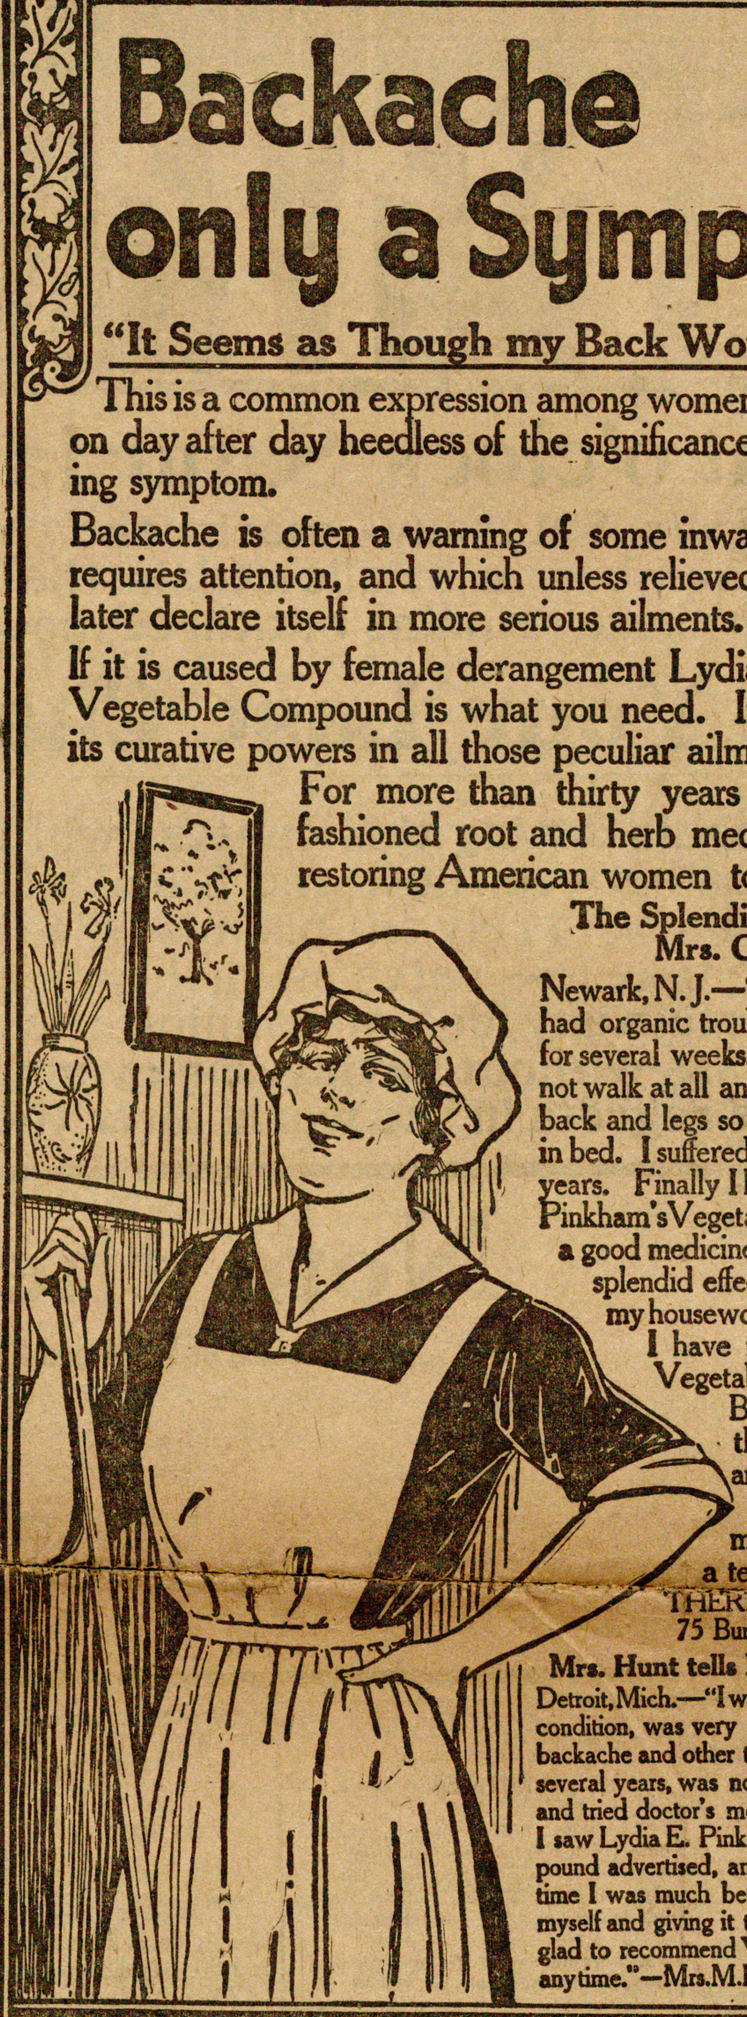
"It Seems as Though my Back Would Break."

This is a common expression among women, yet they toil on day after day heedless of the significance of this distressing symptom.

Backache is often a warning of some inward trouble that requires attention, and which unless relieved will sooner or later declare itself in more serious ailments.

If it is caused by female derangement Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is what you need. It quickly asserts its curative powers in all those peculiar ailments of women.

For more than thirty years this good old fashioned root and herb medicine has been restoring American women to health.



The Splendid Recovery of Mrs. Coventry

Newark, N. J.—"The doctor said I had organic trouble and treated me for several weeks. At times I could not walk at all and I suffered with my back and legs so I often had to stay in bed. I suffered off and on for eight years. Finally I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was a good medicine, and I tried it with splendid effect. I can now do my housework and my washing. I have recommended your Vegetable Compound and Blood Medicine and three of my friends are taking it to their advantage. You may use my name for a testimonial."—Mrs. THERESA COVENTRY, 75 Burnett St., Newark, N. J.

Mrs. Hunt tells how it helped her

Detroit, Mich.—"I was in a general run-down condition, was very nervous and tired, had backache and other troubles. I suffered for several years, was not able to work at times and tried doctor's medicine with no results. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised, and after taking it a short time I was much better. I am still taking it myself and giving it to my daughter, and am glad to recommend Vegetable Compound at any time."—Mrs. M. E. Hunt, 171 Davison Ave.

WORSE THAN DEADLY POISON GAS

Kidney disease is no respector of persons. It attacks young and old alike.

In most cases the victim is warned of the approaching danger. Nature fights back. Headache, indigestion, insomnia, lame back, lumbago, sciatica, rheumatism, pain in the loins and lower abdomen, difficulty in urinating, all are indication of trouble brewing in your kidneys.

When such symptoms appear you will almost certainly find quick relief in GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules.

This famous old remedy has stood the test for two hundred years in helping mankind to fight off disease.

It is imported direct from the home laboratories in Holland, where it has helped to develop the Dutch into one of the sturdiest and healthiest races in the world, and it may be had at almost every drug store. Your money promptly refunded if it does not relieve you. Be sure to get the genuine GOLD MEDAL Brand. In sealed packages, three sizes.—Adv.

BUT SEVEN DAYS MORE

Eight o'clock Saturday night, November 29--just one week from Saturday--marks the close of the "first period" schedule of votes, the maximum number to be allowed, in the News-Bulletin's Big Automobile Prize Contest, after which there remains but three more weeks of the race.

Your Last Chance for Big Votes

Never again during this contest will it be possible to secure so many votes on subscriptions as between now and 8 o'clock Saturday night, November 29. To hold back subscriptions or to rely on "promises" to subscribe at a later date, simply means that you will have to take less votes on such subscriptions. We are putting it up to you squarely. If you entertain any idea of winning the big prize you cannot possibly afford to let this "Period" pass without having done your very best. Hard work now will count for more than all the regrets in the world after the race is over.

Note the Difference:

Schedule of Votes and Subscription Rates of the News-Bulletin

Mokena

BROTHERHOOD DISCUSSES VITAL PROBLEM.

The Brotherhood of St. John's Evangelical church met at the Mokena hall Wednesday night. A fine program was rendered. Several splendid papers, dealing with the cause of the present social unrest and the remedy therefore, were read by Supervisor C. W. Maue, Prof. Flagherty and Wm. Semmler, editor of "The News Bulletin." These papers showed that the working class is trying to travel in a class that is beyond them in proportion to its income. Men earning $30 a week want to travel in the same class as the men earning $50 or $75 per week. In addition it was advocated that shorter hours mean less production and higher prices, whereas longer hours mean more production and lower cost of living. It was pointed out that were the farmers to adopt an eight or six hour day the rest of the world would starve to death.

It was shown that longer hours of steady work made a man more content. Shorter hours mean too much spare time on hand with nothing to do. Many excellent ideas were brought out and very good suggestions offered.

Owing to illness Rev. Wm. Kreis could not be present, but sent a written message.

Arthur G. Zumstein, who just returned from Siberia where he had been stationed with the medical department of the U. S. army, gave a very graphic account of his journey covering 28,000 miles and described his trip to Siberia and returning. He told how the trip was made 1,800 miles inland on the Chinese railway, in cars that hold only forty men or eight horses. He showed what excellent railroad service we have when compared with the service in Siberia. He further told of the various Japanese ports visited while in Siberia. He also gave a fine account of the hospital work done and of the living conditions, and of the terrible scourge of cholera. In all he pictured how the people are carrying on in the unfortunate land of the former czar. He further gave a vivid account of the journey and of the royal welcome accorded the boys at Honolulu.

SOLD OUT.

That is what has happened to the village clerk in the line of hunting licenses. The sales have far exceeded the amount of licenses requisitioned for. Another allottment has been applied for, also for a supply of trapping licenses. These licenses are expected this week.

Henry Lang, former Mokena resident, but late of the state of Oregon, has been visiting with Mokena relatives and friends the past week. Mr. Lang was in Montana before coming here. He expects to return to Oregon, where he has a homestead of 160 acres. Irrigation is badly needed, he states.

The attendance at the Methodist church has picked up well of late and Sunday afternoon a good increase in the usual attendance was noted.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Houchin, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Duringer, Miss L. A. Justus, all of Chicago, motored out Sunday and spent the afternoon with Mrs. John Semmler.

Mr. Lorenz has moved into the John Mattes residence, formerly the Marouse property. Mr. Mattes has made quite a number of noteworthy improvements on this property.

Mrs. Forrest Oliver and son of Danville, Ill., arrived Saturday night to visit with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Hohenstein.

The local tonsorial parlors has been without stove heat during the cold snap due to the lack of a chimney the old one being torn down a few months ago. The past week a new chimney was built and the patrons now enjoy a warm room while getting a shave.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Eggers visited with Mokena relatives Sunday, returning to Chicago in the evening.

ENTERTAINS AID.

Mrs. Albert Maue was hostess to the members of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Mokena M. E. church Thursday afternoon at her spacious country home. There was a very good attendance. A letter from the Silver Cross hospital was read, in which the ladies were asked to tag for the benefit of the Silver Cross hospital, and it was decided to do this Saturday, Nov. 15.

It was also decided to hold the monthly community socials at the M. E. church during the winter months, the same as was done last winter.

The second letter from Margaret Beltzer, the French war orphan which this society is supporting, was read. The next meeting will be held December 11 at the home of Mrs. Joe Kolber.

Mrs. Jos Kolber and daughter are visiting with the former's parents in Gary, Ind., this week.

The Alpine Community Club surprised Frank Sayers of Alpine on his birthday last Thursday evening. Games were played after which refreshments were served and a good time enjoyed by all.

As Henry Holm was coming to Orland last Saturday night he met an auto about a half a mile west of town and being blinded by the glare of the lights did not see John Kesser with a horse and buggy following the auto and ran into the buggy and both buggy and automobile went into the ditch. Nobody was hurt, but the buggy was badly broken.

John Creer got an auto truck load of apples last week which he soon sold.

Ancient Bell.

The rectory of the village of East Haddam, in Connecticut, houses a very ancient bell, bearing the date A. D. 803. It is believed that this bell once belonged to a monastery in Spain, having been brought to the United States in some ship, as ballast.

Peculiar Strike.

One of the novel strikes on record was that of smugglers which occurred on the German-Polish frontier some years ago. Extensive smuggling operations were being carried on, principally through women who crossed into Germany two or three times a day in ragged clothing, returning in costumes of the latest fashion. From the smuggling organization the women received less than 50 cents a day, so they struck for higher wages, and won.

The first practical overhead trolley line was built in Kansas City in 1884, in which double overhead conductors were used, with a trolley wheel riding on the top of the wire.

To Renovate Old Oil Paintings.

When old oil paintings have become dark and cracked they may be made to look like new by the following process, says the Illustrated World: Pour alcohol in a dish and put the picture over it, face downward. The fumes of the alcohol dissolve the paint of the picture, the cracks close up and the color becomes more fresh. Caution is absolutely necessary, as the paint may become so soft as to run together, thus spoiling the whole picture.

Story of the Artichoke.

The artichoke, which originally came from Barbary, is not a botanical species, but a variety of the thistle, which grows spontaneously all along the African coast of the Mediterranean from Morocco to Palestine.

Lame Sickness.

An investigation of the South African disease known as lamziekte, or lame sickness, suggests that it is due to a special plant poison that is generated under abnormal conditions in grasses or other plants that are normally harmless. Its development seems to be associated with unusual weather and soil experiences of which summer drought is important. Through such conditions, wilting would favor the formation of the poison, and this explains the common belief that the disease results from eating wilted plants.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

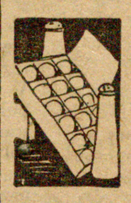
DAINTY DISHES

A most nutritious dish which will take the place of creamed or escalloped eggs is prepared as follows: Take a cupful of cooked rice, add hot milk and beat until smooth and creamy, then drop in three or four eggs, season well with butter, pepper and salt and serve hot. This dish will serve five people abundantly and is a saving of eggs.



Eggs a la Creole.—Cook a tablespoonful of minced onion and two minced green peppers in three tablespoonfuls of butter slowly, for five minutes; add the pulp from a can of tomatoes, after draining off the juice and cook ten minutes longer; season well with salt and cayenne, add half a cup of sliced mushrooms and six eggs which have been beaten slightly. Stir constantly until creamy throughout and serve promptly.

Chicken Terrapin.—Melt four tablespoonfuls of butter in a saucepan and add the same quantity of flour, pour in gradually half a cupful of chicken stock and half a cupful of the liquor drained from a can of mushrooms, also one and one-half cupfuls of cream. When the sauce is smooth, season with salt and pepper and add a quarter of a cupful of any good fruit juice left from canned fruit. Add a generous pint of diced, dark meat of the chicken, a cupful of cut mushrooms, three hard-cooked eggs chopped and the minced chicken livers. Heat and serve at once.

Sweetbread and Cucumber Salad—Prepare the sweetbreads by parboiling and removing all the inedible portion, then drop in cold water to make them firm again; add a tablespoonful of vinegar to the water. Let stand a half hour, drain and cut in pieces. Cut in cubes half of the amount of cucumbers, mix all together with a highly seasoned mayonnaise dressing which has been reduced with half its bulk of whipped cream. When well blended heap lightly into nests of tender lettuce, with paprika and serve with toasted wafers.

Worry less and work more,
Ride less and walk more
Frown less and smile more,
Talk less and think more.

WAFFLES, CRISP AND TENDER.

Waffles are dainty cakes much enjoyed by the average person, and they are not confined to the morning meal for they make a good luncheon or dinner dessert. Waffles are like omelets; you may wait for them but never let them wait for you. If it is not possible to serve them at once, place them on a wire rack in the oven; if piled on a plate they become soggy and lose their chief charm, which is crispness.

Never serve waffles on top of each other as the steaming softens them. Another thing to remember in serving waffles is to have the sirup or sauce served with them, cold, as a hot sirup will destroy the crispness of the waffle.

Now to the making, and then to the baking; the rest will need no directions.

One-Egg Waffles.—Break the yolk of an egg into a bowl and beat thoroughly; add two cupfuls of sour milk; buttermilk is better. Mix and sift two cupfuls of flour, one teaspoonful of soda, one teaspoonful of salt and two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Add to the first mixture with one tablespoonful of melted shortening and the white of the egg beaten stiff, folded in last. If the sour milk is very thick thin with sweet milk or water, or the batter will be too thick. To bake—Heat the waffle iron five minutes or more; grease the side next the heat and put in the batter a spoonful at a time in the corner of each section, then put one tablespoonful in the center. Lower the upper half of the iron and turn at once; lower the flame and cook until well browned. Never wash the inside of a waffle iron after it is used, as the waffles will stick. Wipe it carefully with brush and tissue paper. The outside of the iron may be washed freely. When you find a waffle recipe which suits you stick to it until you learn of one which is more economical and as good. Most recipes make from six to eight waffles.

Favorite Waffles.—Take one cupful of thick sour milk, half a teaspoonful of soda, one and one-fourth cupfuls of flour, two beaten eggs and three tablespoonfuls of melted butter. Separate the yolks and whites of the eggs and add the whites the last thing. Beat well and cook as usual.

To set the face in the right direction, and then simply to travel on, unmindful and never discouraged by even frequent relapses by the way, is the secret of all human achievement.

WHOLESOME MEATLESS DISHES

Though cheese, eggs, dried beans and peas, nuts and fish are all equivalent in food value to meat, they will not take its place in the menu unless they are combined with other foods which contain the equivalent of meat in the bulk. An ounce of cheese is equal to two ounces of meat in food value, but the family stomach must have bulk to feel well fed.

When a nut roast or loaf is served in place of a roast of beef, the vegetables accompanying it sholud be bulky, as spinach, cabbage, corn or beets. For the beginning of the meal a simple soup will be appropriate, then the nut roast, a salad or relish like celery or radishes and finish with a substantial dessert like baked apple dumplings or a rice custard.

Creamed Potatoes With Peanuts.—Prepare a white sauce by melting two tablespoonfuls of butter, add two finely minced onions, and a small minced pepper; when softened add two tablespoonfuls of flour and cook until smooth, season with salt and pepper and add slowly a pint of milk; when the sauce is boiling hot stir in diced potatoes cooked and hot; add a cupful of coarsely chopped freshly roasted peanuts and serve. Garnish with a few of the peanuts over the top.

Scalloped Chestnuts With Samp—Take two cupfuls of chestnuts roasted and shelled, remove the brown skins. Butter a baking dish, sprinkle with one finely chopped green pepper. Put a layer of samp or hominy in the dish, sprinkle with chestnuts, then with grated cheese and pour over a cupful of brown nut gravy. Bake in a moderate oven a half hour.

Brown Nut Gravy.—Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter in a saucepan, add two tablespoonfuls of flour and when well blended add a tablespoonful of peanut butter; add one and one half cupfuls of boiling water, salt and pepper to taste. Add a teaspoonful of kitchen bouquet to color. If the peanut butter is not liked, two tablespoonfuls of finely ground peanuts or peanut flour will take its place.

A handful of any kind of nuts added to almost any kind of a salad, adds both to its flavor and food value.

The tender waffle hearts are set upon
Is either crisp or soggy and anon

EVERYDAY FOODS.

An attractive salad is always a most welcome addition to a dinner or luncheon.

Celery Jelly Salad.—Put two cupfuls of strained tomatoes, a tablespoonful of grated onion, a bay leaf and a pinch of celery seed into a saucepan; bring to the boiling point, set aside for 15 minutes; add half a package of gelatin which has been soaked in a half-cupful of cold water, half a teaspoonful of salt and the juice of half a lemon. Stand over boiling water until the gelatin is dissolved; strain, stir in a quantity of cut celery, set on ice and stir occasionally until the gelatin begins to thicken; mold in small cups and chill. At serving time turn out on bed of lettuce leaves and mask with mayonnaise.

Beef Collops.—Put a tablespoonful of butter in a frying pan; add one small onion chopped fine, a teaspoonful of minced parsley, the same of salt and a few dashes of pepper. Stir in one tablespoonful of flour, and one pound of raw beef cut fine. Cook five minutes, stirring constantly. Serve hot on buttered toast.

Chicken Loaf.—Cook the fowl in water until the meat falls from the bones. Strain, put the liquor into a saucepan and reduce to three cupfuls by boiling. Add one-half package of gelatin. Separate the meat from the bones and shred fine. Rinse an earthen mold in cold water, put in the chicken, season the liquor and pour over the chicken. Set it away to harden and serve next day with mayonnaise dressing. A good imitation of this chicken loaf can be made by using canned chicken and chicken soup.

Liver Soup.—Take half a pound of cold cooked liver, grind it through the chopper. Fry one large onion in two tablespoonfuls of butter, then add the liver. Add one cupful of sifted bread crumbs. Season with salt and pepper and add six cupfuls of soup stock. Boil 15 minutes, press through a colander, and thicken with the yolk of egg.

FROM GIRLHOOD TO MIDDLE LIFE

South Freeport, Ill.—"When I reached middle life I became run-down and in need of a tonic. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription surely proved to be all that is claimed for it and I came through this critical time with none of the distressing ailments which affect so many women, such as 'heat flashes' and dizzy spells, but was so strong and well that I could scarcely believe it myself. I certainly would recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to all women of middle age."—Mrs. L. Kitchen.

Rock Island, Ill.—"In my girlhood days I suffered from irregularity and would become run-down in health, and my mother would give me 'Favorite Prescription' whenever she saw that I needed a special tonic. At one time when I was suffering during development she gave me a complete course of treatment with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets,' and I still remember that these medicines restored me to perfect health, making me feel better in every way. I have since married and am mother of three children."—Mrs. E. L. Martin, 4327 Seventh Ave.

Elgin, Ill.—"As a household remedy for sluggish liver, sick headaches and constipation, I have found Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets to give the utmost satisfaction. THE RAINBOW DANCE

"Come on, blue fairies," called the red fairies.

"You come on, too," said the blue fairies.

"Of course we will," said the red fairies.

"And you come along too, green fairies," they all shouted.

"We will," the green fairies shouted.

"And the yellow fairies—you must come too," they cried. "We will," called the yellow fairies.

"You see," said the red fairies, "we must all be here today for we're going to give a dance."

"Really," they all said. "When is the dance to begin?"

"In just a moment," the red fairies said.

"What are we waiting for?" the others asked.

"For the signal to begin," the red fairies said.

"Who will give it to us?" asked the other fairies.

"The Sun and the King of the Clouds," answered the red fairies. "But all of us must be ready, hurry now, it will soon be the time.

"All the fairies of the different colors go together, and each make a beautiful long, curving stripe by the way you stand," said the red fairies. "And those which go to make up part of the beautiful color—everyone take your place in other words, for you all know just how you must go to make up the beautiful dance."

"Ah, now we know," said the green fairies. "We didn't quite understand before just what sort of a dance it was to be. But with all our good friends here we wouldn't have missed it at any rate."

"We're going to have a glorious rainbow dance," said the red fairies. "We're just waiting for the signal from Mr. Sun and the King of the Clouds as we said before."

"That speech of yours made us think it was going to be a rainbow dance," said the yellow fairies.

Now all of these fairies were dressed in beautiful soft dresses of the colors after which they were named.

"When the King of the Clouds and Mr. Sun feel like being friendly and having a chat, well really, we have to celebrate it by having a beautiful dance, don't we?" asked the red fairies.

"Nothing could be a better idea," said the others.

"Hush, oh," whispered the red fairies. "Now, get ready, for we must begin our dance."

They all hurried into their different places, some of the fairies dressed in different colors standing and blending together and making one lovely color.

"You Must Come, Too."

"Hello, King of the Clouds," shouted all the rainbow fairies. "See, we've come! A beautiful rainbow, made up of so many, many little fairies, who are so glad to see you and Mr. Sun a-talking.

"And now we're going to dance. The earth people will not know that we're dancing, for we dance very stately and very quiet dances—not the hop, skip and jump, or one step, two step, a million step kind. Our dance is slow but it is very lovely, and we always take our same positions.

"See King of the Clouds, see Mr. Sun, we're going to arrange ourselves so that the rainbow fairies on either side, at each end will tell our secrets to the earth, of how we love the earth and of how we kiss it with our fairy kisses and say we hope it's quite, quite well and happy."

So the rainbow fairies gave a rainbow dance. Their decorations, their lights, their costumes, everything went together in just the right way to make a most perfect rainbow for the earth people to see. And Mr. Sun chuckled and said to the King of the Clouds, "Well, your Royal Highness, this is a pretty big treat to have a pleasant talk with you and at the same time to see this lovely dance."

And the King of the Clouds answered Mr. Sun by saying, "It's a pretty big treat for me. A very big treat! Just see how my children are sparkling with joy! They love to come along when I talk to you! Everyone sparkles with brightness and happiness when I talk to you, honored sir!"

HEADACHES

Headache is a symptom which shows that some organ does not function normally. The head aches, but some other organ is sick. Mostly the stomach is the sick organ. Many forms of headaches are caused by stomach disturbances. An abnormal quantity of poisons is produced in the intestines and absorbed into the blood stream. If you will take Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine, which cleans the intestines and removes all offending substances, the headache will cease. Triner's remedy will restore your appetite and help the digestion in such way that you will gladly agree with Mrs. J. A. ST. CHARLES WOMAN WAS FORTUNATE

It Was a Lucky Day for Mrs. Wiethoelter When She Read About Doan's

"I had such awful cutting pains in the small of my back and hips, I often had to cry out," says Mrs. Ernest Wiethoelter, 550 Madison St., St. Charles, Mo. "The pain was knife-like and I couldn't turn in bed, in fact I was almost helpless. My feet and ankles swelled badly, my hands were puffed up and there were swellings under my eyes. I often got so dizzy I had to sit down to keep from falling and my health was completely broken down. The kidney secretions pained terribly in passage and in spite of all the medicine I took, I kept getting worse until I was a wreck.

HEADACHE

Often Caused by

Acid-Stomach

Yes, indeed, more often than you think. Because ACID-STOMACH, starting with indigestion, heartburn, belching, food-repeating, bloat and gas, if not checked, will eventually affect every vital organ of the body. Severe, blinding, splitting headaches are, therefore, of frequent occurrence as a result of this upset condition.

Take EATONIC. It quickly banishes acid-stomach with its sour bloat, pain and gas.

It aids digestion—helps the stomach get full strength from every mouthful of food you eat. Millions of people are miserable, weak, sick and ailing because of ACID-STOMACH. Poisons, created by partly digested food charged with acid, are absorbed into the blood and distributed throughout the entire system. This often causes rheumatism, biliousness, cirrhosis of the liver, heart trouble, ulcers and even cancer of the stomach. It robs its victims of their health, undermines the strength of the most vigorous.

If you want to get back your physical and mental strength—be full of vim and vigor—enjoy life and be happy, you must get rid of your acid-stomach.

In EATONIC you will find the very help you need and it's guaranteed. So get a big 50c box from your druggist today. If it fails to please you, return it and he will refund your money.

SHOOTING WILD TURKEYS

PREPARING THE FEAST

THE symbol of Thanksgiving? Why, turkey, of course. Thanksgiving means plenty and goodness. So does turkey—plenty of white meat and plenty of dark for everybody. And as for the goodness—just remember how, when a slow and awkward carver was on the job, you sat and felt your mouth water! And the stuffing—that's plenty and goodness, too. Down with the fellow who says turkey-stuffing lessens the sweet flavor and delicious aroma of the bird! That fellow never tasted real turkey-stuffing in all his born days. Why, it's the soul of the turkey. You just smell that heavenly smell and then you take all the carver will give you—for a first helping. What'll I have? Imparticular. Big piece. Lots of stuffing.

After studying the wild turkey for 60 years, hunting it for 50 years and photographing it for ten years, Charles L. Jordan, an Alabama gentleman, thought with Benjamin Franklin, that the eagle hasn't an honest leg to stand on as the real bird of freedom.

"Though a little vain and silly," the turkey, Franklin said, is a native American "and a bird of courage." Had he known more on the subject he would have added that the turkey is both wise and cleanly and is never vain or silly except during the gobbling season. Can as much be said of any other biped?

The gobbling season—among turkeys, of course—opens and ends with spring. It is then that the male struts and calls and reveals his whereabouts to hunters and their dogs.

During the rest of the year, however, he frustrates man and mocks at all his plans. He is in the woods, but invisible to enemies armed with guns. Brave, silent, dignified and capable, he is unconquerable until he becomes elocutive and love-lorn and begins to make a huge fan of his tail.

Wild turkeys have had their historians, biographers and antiquarians, says James B. Morrow in the Boston Globe. Scientists have written about them in a lingo that nobody can understand. There are enough turkey books here and in France, Spain and Great Britain to make a large library in themselves.

The department of agriculture in Washington employs a field expert who spends a larger part of the year with flocks of domesticated turkeys that he may learn their habits and search out all the secrets of their lives. The turkey industry touches almost every farm.

Trainloads of live and dressed turkeys are shipped from large and small towns in the South. There are turkey farms in the West, with herders for the flocks, and turkeys in droves, like cattle and sheep, can be seen in Tennessee, California and elsewhere, just before Thanksgiving and Christmas, on the way to market. Also there are turkey doctors.

But Mr. Jordan, living out of doors from childhood to old age, and meeting his death at last from a poacher's shot, knew more about turkeys than anyone who has ever lived. He began studying them, hidden behind fallen trees and in the brush, while still too young to carry a rifle.

Chief among the pupils of this fine old master was Edward A. McIlhenny, a business man of Avery island, Louisiana, at whose suggestion reserves for birds have been established in different parts of the United States. The McIlhenney family owns Avery island, some 3,500 acres in extent, where the fast vanishing white heron finds refuge during the breeding season, and where ducks by the thousand live throughout the winter.

Among the turkey hunters of today Mr. McIlhenny is prominent. But for his fidelity and enthusiasm and bis skill as a writer, Mr. Jordan's practical and fascinating knowledge of the wild turkey would have been lost to sportsmen and naturalists. So, too, would have been lost Mr. Jordan's method of cooking, whether the turkey is shot in the woods or, less dramatically, is taken from a tree near the house or from a coop.

A turkey having been obtained, the next transaction is to prepare it for the table. The second proceeding is as important economically as the first. And under that heading the art of Mr. Jordan is final, though French chefs, amid their sauces and cococtions, may voice exclamations and denials.

"If the turkey is young," Mr. McIlhenny says, quoting Mr. Jordan, "cook it in the way usual to stove baking, after first filling its cavity with a suitable dressing of bread crumbs, pepper, salt and onions chopped fine, moistened with fresh country butter. This is is the best dressing that can be made, and it will detract nothing from the flavor of the bird nor add to it."

Oysters or chestnuts, if put into the dressing, are a profanation, and shrimps an abomination, in the view of Mr. Jordan. Wine and celery destroy the rich turkey flavor.

Originally the wild turkey was found in most parts of the United States—from the forests of Maine and westward as far as Nebraska and southward to the lower parts of Mexico. Gonzalo Fernandez de Oviedo, the Spanish historian, who wrote many books about the West Indies, printed a description of the wild turkey at Toledo in the year 1527. He had seen the males in the gobbling season and supposed they were peacocks.

Thus Oviedo brought the turkey into literature. But if the records are reliable, it was Alejandro Geraldini, an Italian and the Roman Catholic bishop of Santo Domingo, who introduced the turkey into Europe. A letter he wrote in 1523 mentions that he had sent a pair of turkeys to a friend in Rome.

The domestication of the bird, however, was brought about by the Spaniards, whose navigators took it home in their queer little ships and localized it in "European barnyards," as John Fiske states the case. This happened in 1530.

Eighty years later Christopher Newport, the leader of the expedition that founded Jamestown, in Virginia, sailed back to England. With him he took a large quantity of yellow sand that he thought was gold, and several coops of wild turkeys, "the first," again to quote John Fiske, "that ever graced an English bill of fare." The sand was found to be valueless, but the turkeys lived and multiplied and became a source of large profit to British farmers.

During the reign of Charles I, king of England, the prices of many things were regulated by law. Hume, the historian, says a turkey cock brought four shillings and six pence, $1.12; a turkey hen three shilling, or 75 cents, and a goose two shillings, or 50 cents. A pheasant cock sold for $1.50, a pheasant hen for $1.25 and a partridge for 25 cents. Turkeys then were a novelty in Great Britain.

About 7,000,000 turkeys are grown yearly in this country. Texas produces more than any other state. Missouri is second, Illinois third, Iowa fourth, Ohio fifth and Indiana sixth. An ordinary western turkey weighing 12 pounds used to sell for about $3.36 at retail in the eastern markets. As to its cost this Thanksgiving—your guess is as good as anybody's.

Mr. Ilhenny will tell you that wild turkeys live in the regions where they are born. If they go away, it is for the reason that there is a shortage of food in the territory constituting their natural range. After feeding they will return to their old homes.

During the 60 years that Mr. Jordan spent in hunting and studying wild turkeys, he never saw or heard of one that died a natural death. "Nor," he said, "have I heard of any disease or epidemic among them." Blackhead, a common distemper among domestic turkeys, has baffled the doctors, so far, and in regions has made the production of turkeys not only unprofitable but practically out of the question.

The mother turkey of the woods keeps her children under control and at her side until midwinter. By that time the brood is full grown. The young gobblers, Mr. McIlhenny says, then leave their mothers and sisters and form bachelor clubs among themselves.

Turkey society in the forests, from December until early in the spring, is made up of three divisions—the old hens and young hens; the young gobblers, and the old gobblers. At mating time, in March, there is a reunion. It is then that the old gobblers strut and gobble and call to their plural wives as well as to the hunters.

At the moment the hens begin to set, the old gobblers, in couples and groups up to 20, again sequester themselves from all but their own society. So they live, summer, autumn and winter. They never fight except when they are showing off to the ladies and then their combats are not mortal. The rules of their contests of strength permit shoving, pulling, pecking and wing-beating.

They are brave birds, as the McIlhennys, all famous hunters, will testify. Furthermore, they are wise birds. It is the exceptional hunter who gets a sight of them in summer. They are not afraid, however, of the farmer who is plowing, husking corn or reaping.

Notwithstanding the spectacular enterprise of turkey ranching in Texas and California on a grand scale, the old farm must still be relied upon for most of our Thanksgiving and Christmas turkeys, says James Hamilton Byrd in Grit. On thousands upon thousands of farms, as a side issue to her regular work, it is common practice for the farm wife to keep a half a dozen or perhaps a dozen turkey hens and a gobbler from which to raise a flock of 40 to 50 turkeys.

Early in the spring the turkey hens begin laying. Then comes the brooding season. By October 1 the young turkeys have grown to be big, rangy birds, so now the fattening or finishing process is begun. Little do they know as they are being fed more and more of the farmer's corn every night of the diabolical intentions of their master's better half. Ten days or two weeks before marketing they are literally feasted on grain—stuffed three or four times a day—until just before the enactment of the tragedy of their young careers they should be as fat as butter balls.

Although turkey ranching in Texas and California has almost reached the proportions of a new and spectacular industry, by far the greater number of turkeys are raised on the farms of the middle West—Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Missouri and Iowa. New England, long famous for its turkeys, raises comparatively few, although its reputation still lingers. Some of the big turkey ranches have a thousand or more turkeys, and some of the turkey drives to market are most extraordinary sights. The flocks of the middle West are usually less than a hundred. Still 50 to 75 fine gobblers and hens weighing from 15 to 25 pounds each is not a mean sight and represents indeed no small value.

There are still millions of acres in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico where the wild turkey breeds plentifully, and where turkey hunting is great sport. But of far more importance to the turkey market is the "still hunting" which is carried on in the spring in many places to secure eggs or possibly the very young birds in order to raise the pure wild-blood turkey and introduce it into tame flocks. The tame turkey has degenerated until it is no longer the virile bird it was in the days of our pilgrim fathers, but the wild turkey is subject to no known disease. On some of the forest reserves the government is protecting the wild turkey for this important purpose of using it as a breeding stock.

METHOD IN THEIR MOVEMENT

Veteran of the Plains Explained Why Buffaloes Invariably Traveled on a Zigzag Course.

No person ever saw a herd of buffalo move in a straight line. They always took a zigzag course. The late "Buffalo" Jones explained this as follows: "A buffalo is a very cautious animal. His shaggy forehead prevents him seeing objects on either side. To prevent a surprise from an enemy he walks obliquely to the right and then to the left, and thus gets an unobstructed view of the surrounding country."

The buffalo had many small traits that are lacking in cattle. The buffalo never mired in swamps or pools as cattle do. When they found they were becoming stuck they threw themselves on their sides and swam or paddled through the mud as a hog does. They always had guards out day and night, to warn the herd of approaching danger. They always faced a storm and never "drifted" as do cattle. They lay down with their heads to the fiercest storms, tossing their heads around on their sides and sleeping contentedly, while the great mass of fur on their humps protected them from the winds.

The Hard Heart.

George M. Cohan, during a lull in the theater strike, talked about the callous hearts of chorus girls.

"Oh, they've got callous hearts," he said. "I know a broker who proposed to one of them at a roof garden supper.

"'Miss Vavasour—Vivian—" the broker said, 'my feelings toward you are so tender, so very tender—'

"But Vivian Vavasour interrupted him with a hard little laugh.

"'Look here, Bill, she said, 'it's legal tender I've got to see if we're going to do business.'"

A really sensible man rarely has to be placated.

IDENTIFIED HER ALL RIGHT

Tots Proved They Knew Principal, Though Their Explanation Might Have Been More Dignified.

Ned and Joseph, two tots in the first primary grade, had been fighting on the way home from school at noon. Their own teacher scolded them, but it did no good, for they fought again on the way home that very noon. The teacher went to the principal. "I want you to say something to them," she told her. "I'm sure they will be more impressed then."

That afternoon the principal did as she was asked. She talked long and earnestly on the evils of fighting, but neither of the culprits seemed the least bit moved. Finally she ended, "Now, I say you must not fight, and I mean it." Grimly she eyed them. "And you both know who I am, don't you?"

Both nodded their heads and Joe said cheerfully, "Why, you're the lady who rings the bell for the other teachers—aren't you?"

May Produce Blue Guinea Pigs.

Dr. H. L. Ibsen, professor of genetics and color heritage at a Western agricultural college, is conducting an experiment to produce blue guinea pigs for a Chicago dealer in guinea pigs, rabbits and rats.

Blue rats, rabbits and various other small animals have been produced, but the breeding of blue guinea pigs has never yet been accomplished. Doctor Ibsen has done work in this field that ranks high among the breeding geneticists of the country.

Marley

SCOUT NIGHT OBSERVED.

Last Sunday was Scout night at the Marley church. Captain Cole of the Joliet Boy Scouts was present and gave a very fine address on the good work the Boy Scouts are doing and urged every parent to encourage their boys to join the Boy Scouts.

The Household Science club was entertained Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. James Frazer. The program was very entertaining. Mrs. G. W. Busch had a paper on "Conservation of Fuel" and Mrs. H. L. Rust read a poem, "In Flanders Fields." Refreshments were served. It was voted to donate a bakery booth for the bazaar to be held at the Marley church December 5.

The Marley Dramatic club is busily engaged rehearsing for their play "Deacon Dubbs" to be presented in the near future.

Mrs. Daniel Goodlow and children of Winnipeg, Canada, have been visiting with their former cousin, Edward Marshall, the past week, while enroute to Indiana, where they will make their future home. Mrs. Goodlow was formerly Katherine Marshall.

Thanksgiving day will be observed with a special service at the Marley church at 10:30 a. m., Thursday morning, November 27, followed by a community Thanksgiving dinner to be served in the church parlors.

The children's sermon topic for next Sunday at the Marley church will be "The Children in Blue and What They Do."

Mrs. David Gillett underwent an operation at the Silver Cross hospital, Joliet, Monday, for the removal of a toe.

On Being Natural.

We all boast of our independence and our freedom to live our lives the way we think best, but at that not many of us have nerve enough, sitting at a banquet table, to dip our bread crusts into our coffee. Doing the things we like to do and being ourselves free from all affectation are two performances reserved exclusively for the few glad moments we are at home with the family.

Bird of Marked Peculiarities.

The yellow-breasted chat is an eccentric bird both when it is singing and in flying. When these birds sing their musical effort seems to require a great deal of flirting of the tail and twisting of the head; and even when they are flying their tail jerks up and down, giving them a strange appearance. The song of this bird is scarcely worthy of the name, having been called a "series of grotesque syllables."

And Succeeding.

Most of the economic sorrow which a nation suffers arises from the greed of men trying to sneak selfish advantages over others for profit.

When Honey Bees Will Sting.

Dark colors seem to be more offensive to bees than light, and the person dressed in dark garments should show more caution when handling these useful insects. Offensive odors are also objectionable to them, and the person recently returning from working in the stable or whose perspiration has a distinct odor should show some discretion in making himself familiar around the beehive.—Clintonville Gazette.

International Courtesy.

Foreign vessels entering United States ports are obliged to display only the flag of the country to which they belong. It is customary, however, for steamers to carry the United States flag at the forepeak when entering United States ports, but this is merely a matter of international courtesy and is not compulsory.

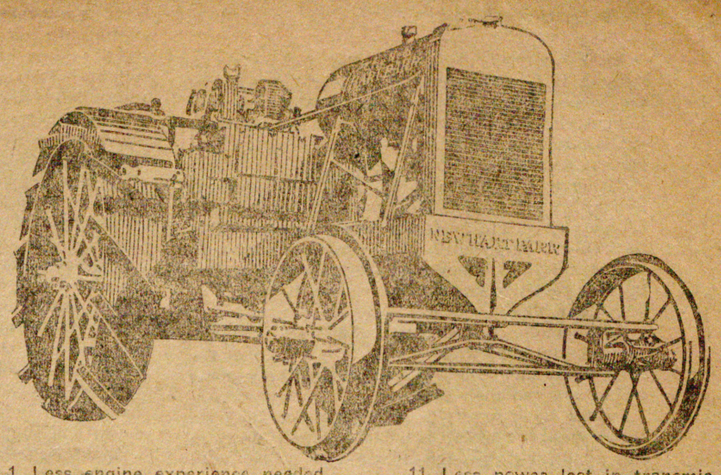
A Tractor with two-cylinder twin motor leads them all
At the first big demonstration of 1919 held by the Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio, Hart-Parr 30 developed more horse power than any other three-plow tractor among the 22 competing, and it had but one close competitor for fuel economy.
We have been building tractor motors for over eighteen years; in fact, we built the first successful kerosene motor.
In our experience we have found that the two-cylinder twin kerosene motor for a tractor has 20 distinct advantages over the four-cylinder.
ADVANTAGES OF HART-PARR 30 TWO-CYLINDER TWIN MOTOR


1. Less engine experience needed to operate.
2. Handles kerosene better.
3. More accessible.
4. Lower cost per horsepower.
5. Half the ignition trouble.
6. Half the valve trouble.
7. Only two main bearings. Cannot get out of line and break crank shaft.
8. Few bearings, and these may be oiled by mechanical oiler.
9. Less gearing because of lower engine speed and less reduction.
10. Best type of gearing may be used because of less reduction to wheels.
11. Less power lost in transmission.
12. Less jacket walls on cylinder, hence more uniform cooling.
13. Easier to cool with radiator.
14. Sturdier, more rugged parts.
15. Slower speed, hence longer life.
16. Less wearing parts.
17. Heavy duty engines have always been one or two cylinders.
18. With cranks at 180 degrees, they may be very well balanced.
19. Similar to stationary engine,
20. Better belt power.

SPECIFICATIONS
Power—Pulls three plows—30 H. P. on belt.
Motor—2-cylinder twin, 4 cycle.
Valve in head. 750 R. P. M.
Tractor Frame—Cast steel, one piece.
No bend, no twist.
Carburetor—Dray kerosene shunt.
Bearings—S. K. F. Ball and Hyatt Roller.
Speeds—Two forward; one reverse.
Transmission—Selective sliding gear.
Cooling Device—Honeycomb radiator—shaft driven pump and fan.
Lubrication—Fresh oil, force feed.
Weight—5,158 lbs.
Price—$1,395 f. o. b. factory.
A kerosene engine running on full load produces more power on cold fuel because all the expansion takes place in the combustion chamber. At light load the engine runs more smoothly on hot fuel mixture.
The Dray Kerosene Shunt automatically feeds cold fuel on full load and hot fuel on light load, giving plenty of power when needed and a smooth running engine at all loads.
This is the reason for the economical, flexible power of the Hart-Parr 30.
